The reasoning behind the connections for concessions were to make the table more of a receipt for the purchase. Since the customer_id is there and the item_id is a separate table.

The reasoning for the foreign keys in ticket is as follows. movie_id was added since it ties the ticket to a certain movie and can only be used to see that movie. As for customer_id it allows that ticket to be connected to the customer and have a customer be able to purchase multiple tickets.
